TREAT your special someone to a Valentine's Day dinner, or spend a romantic night after enjoying a special dinner for two at the Pulai Springs Resort here.

The Valentine's Day set dinner and Valentine's dinner and room package called An Enchanted Evening at the Grandfalls will be available tomorrow.

For the Valentine's Day set dinner at Gleneagles Terrace Restaurant, couples can enjoy an evening of stargazing at the poolside overlooking the romantic resort's beautiful golf course.

love of your life

There will be a five-course candlelight dinner meticulously put together by the resort's culinary team priced at RM320++ per couple.

The dinner is inclusive of a bottle of house wine or a bottle of sparkling juice, with a stalk of rose and chocolates for the lady.

The menu starts with the creamy coconut soup with Nyonya curry ravioli served with bread and butter, and complemented by a creamy dragon fruit sherbet.

For the main course, diners can opt for a grilled sea prawn served with green pea puree, vegetables and butternut sauce, the sun-dried tomato-crusted lamb noisette with saffron couscous, haricot vert, Thai asparagus and cranberry sauce, or the bake of supreme chicken breast served on potato, sauteed trio capsicum and Asian pesto.

To round up the meal, warmed banana wrap, a bouquet of strawberry chocolates will be served, together with coffee or tea.

The dinner and room promotion will have couples celebrating their love in the ambience of the resort's beautiful grandfalls while enjoying their romantic dinner.

The outdoor area overlooking the golf course is perfect for couples who prefer quiet alfresco dining under the stars.

Priced at RM1,080++ per couple, the package includes a seven-course alfresco candlelight dinner for two, a bottle of chilled champagne or sparkling juice, chocolates and a bouquet of flowers for the lady, a one-night stay in the luxurious Anugraha Boutique Hotel with full breakfast the following morning, and a special Valentine's gift for the couple.

Only six bookings are available for this package.

It starts off with the pan-seared scallop on tossed young sprouts of mix lettuce, followed by a rich clam chowder with croutons, bread and butter, and a serving of creamy dragon fruit sherbet.

There are three choices for the main course.

First, there is the baked coffee-crusted beef tenderloin with cha soba, chef selected vegetables and sweet Thai chili sauce.

Then there is the bake of supreme chicken breast served on potato, sauteed trio capsicum and Asian pesto.

Finally, there is the slow-baked sous vide Norwegian salmon with rolled glutinous rice, selected vegetables and spicy chocolate sauce.

The petit of fruity pavlova and pralines are served as dessert, followed by coffee or tea.
